

Sensations kettle style potato chips from Sobeys

My new favorite potato chips come grocery stores. They are Sensations by Compliments brand, which is equivalent to President's Choice at Loblaws, Independent Grocer or Superstores...

These extra crispy, kettle style chips are sensational (pun intended) tasting and always reasonably priced. I am particularly fond of the black pepper & lime, and sweet chili & sour cream flavours pictured below. There are many other varieties to choose from too, such as jalapeno, hickory barbecue, balsamic vinegar & caramelized onion, sea salt & malt vinegar, and more...

The best part is that these Sensations kettle potato chips are gluten-free and processed in a gluten-free environment, with no artificial flavours or colours to trigger my food allergies...

Sobeys' slogan is Better Food For All; these Sensations kettle chips are definitely better for me. Unfortunately for many of you, Sobeys locations are limited to Canada. For you Canadian readers, give these chips a try soon, I'm sure you will love them too. Your biggest dilemma will be deciding which variety to try first!
